JOHN C. HERTLE SUSPENDED

ACCUSED OF EMPLOYING A CITY ACCOUNTANT ON PRIVATE JOBS.

Complaint Against the Commissioner of Accounts Is Made by the Bureau of Municipal Research and Backed by the Accountant's Affidavit-Hertle Sil: nt.

Commissioner of Accounts John C. Hertle was suspended yesterday by acting Mayor McGowan because of charges made by the Bereau of Municipal Research that accountants of the department, while on the city's payroll, have been doing work for the accounting firm of Hertle, Cook 4 Decker of 280 Broadway. Commissioner Hersle is one of the members of this firm. and the Cook in the firm is H. R. M. Cook. auditor of the Board of Education

Although the report gives the case of only one man who did work for the firm at the city's expense, it intimates that there is ground for the belief that several others were similarly engaged on private work for Hertle's firm

The case upon which the charges are based is one involving Charles D. Schenck, an accountant of the department. Schenck has made affidavit that in January and February, 1906, he worked by order of Mr. Hertle on the books of a restaurant in 125th street. He swears that he was thus employed for five weeks and worked from 9 A. M. until 5 P. M., the hours in which he ought to have been at work for the city Previous to this, Schenck says, he was engaged on the books of the Democratic Club, the auditing of which was given to Hertle, Cook & Decker.

Mr. Hertle refused to see reporters resterday. At his house it was said that he was out of town, but by arrangements he made by telephone with acting Mayor McGowan the notice of suspension was personally served upon him in this city. John K. Hayward, chief accountant of the department, speaking for Mr. Hertle, said that while it was true that the Commissioner had employed Schenck to do private work for his firm, that work was done only after office hours and on Sun days and that Schenck was personally paid for that work by Mr. Hertle.

"The Commissioner may have been indiscreet, but he did nothing dishonest, said Mr. Hayward. Also, according to Mr Hayward, the Commissioner professes to see in the raking up at this time of something that happened two years ago polit ical animosity for the part he has taken in the investigation of Borough President Ahearn's administration.

The affidavit made by Schenck says that The amdayit made by schenck says that he did the work on the restaurant's books in the city's time, and it is further asserted that all the money he got from Mr. Hertle for the job was $25.

The Bureau of Municipal Research is an offshoot of the Citizens' Union. It this bureau which worked up the against Borough President Ahearn. While against borough resident. Must the Ahearn investigation was proceeding matters came to Commissioner Mitchell's knowledge which he laid before the Mayor and which led the Mayor to remark pri-vately more than once that there seemed grounds for the Commissioners of Accounts to investigate themselves. It can be stated that at about this time the Mayor was considering the advisability of removing Mr. Rertle, but was confronted with the difficulty of filling his place. The Charter ways that one of the Commissioners of Accounts a certified public accountant of Society is a close corporation and numbers only about thirty members, and the Mayor doubted if any of these could be induced to give up his practice to take Hertle's job It is understood that some ten account ants in the department are suspected of having been engaged on jobs like Schenck's, but they have so far refused to make any ad-missions. They insist that whatever pri-vate work they have done was done after

The report of the bureau was received by The report of the bureau was received by Mr. McCowan last Friday. He forwarded it to Mayor McClellan, who is spending his vacation in Maine, and yesterday Mr-McGowan received a telegraphic message from the Mayor to suspend Hertle pending a trial. A copy of the charges has also been put in the hands of District Attorney hands of District Attorney Jerome. The Charter makes it a misde-meanor for the head of a department to assign a subordinate to other duties than those of the department.

those of the department.

Mr. McGowan said that if the firm and not Hertle alone profited by Schenck's work Auditor Cook of the Board of Education would have to explain. The billheads and circulars of the firm show prominently the names of Hertle and Cook, and opposite to their names are given the public offices they fill. It is believed by the Bureau of Municipal Research that many of the clients of the pal Research that many of the clients of the firm have been men who wished to collect bills from the city quickly and that they sought this end by employing the firm to audit their accounts.

SAILOR LYNCH'S BODY FOUND Near the Battleship Georgia-An Autopsy to Be Made.

The body of Harry Francis Lynch, the eighteen-year-old apprentice on the battle ship Georgia who disappeared on Saturday night from the ship while she lay in the North River off Seventy-ninth street, was found there yesterday morning. Capt. Henry McCrea sent an officer ashore to notify the Coroners' office and Daniel Lynch, the boy's father, a foreman in an abattoir at First avenue and Forty-fifth street.

The body was sent to the Morgue, where an autopsy will be made this morning. The boy's father says that three sailors on the ship told him on Sunday to look into his son's death. Capt. McCrea thinks young Lynch slipped off the starboard boom while putting out a light.

BIG SENDOFF FOR UNCLE JOE

ENTHUSIASTIC GREETING AT RUSHVILLE, IND.

Was Home Coming Day in Rush County and He Carried Off the Honors-Kept Off Politics-Put In a Word Against

RUSHVILLE, Ind., Aug. 7.-Though this was the homecoming day of former citizens of Rush county, Speaker Joseph G. Cannot easily carried off the honors of the occasion though he is not nor pretends to be a former citizen of the county. Indeed, he was the chief attraction and was advertised as the one real big show of the day. His picture was in store windows and street cars, and his name was painted on fence rails and or sidewalks and on long streamers stretched across the principal streets.

Congressman Watson arranged to give the Speaker a grand sendoff and he sucreeded even better than he had boped. When Uncle Joe was introduced to the large audience the woods fairly rang with the cheers and the demonstration was so pronounced and so prolonged that the Speaker blushed in spite of efforts to appear once in a while, but it was to be a nonpartisan affair and he kept away from the prohibited partisan talk as well as could have been expected. His theme was "Patriotism and Prosperity," with enough anecdotes and reminiscences sandwiched in to make it all very interesting to the old settlers. He did take a stand against Government ownership of railroads, however, but it was only during a digression from the main theme.

"I stand opposed to the idea of the Gov-ernment of the United States or the Government of the United States or the Government of any State owning the railroads." said he. In support of his assertion that the idea is a bad one he declared that in Germany, where 90 per cent of the railroads are owned by the Government, the cost of the carriage of the products of agriculture and industry are four times as much as in the United States. "The history of Government ownership of railroads," he said, "is a history of failure."

He didn't mention the words protective

He didn't mention the words protective tariff, but he declared very forcibly that the present prosperity of the country would continue as long as "present policies" are continued.

Uncle Joe took no stock in the cry that the rich are growing richer and the poor poorer. He tramped all over pessimists and knockers, and in closing said: "I'm going to keep my face toward the east; you'll never find me down among pessimists, prophesying damnation to MERCY FOR MERE MAN. Prof. Armstrong's Piez Arousing Disc on the Education of Girls.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Aug. 7.-Although Prof. Armstrong's appea! yesterday before the British Association for mercy for mere man from dvanced women aroused his audience to continual mirth, the subject is being discussed seriously by teachers and others. Mrs. Luther Gulick declares against college training for girls. She says:

"I would not send my daughters to college, and, unlike many American women, I college or university training for girls. Hardly more than 50 per cent. of them marry after such a training. Girls ought to go slowly through high school and then specialize in domestic training or some thing by which they could earn a living."

Mrs. Gulick is the wife of a well known educator who was at one time principal of the Pratt Institute in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Homan, an English educationist, holds a contrary view. She says the more educated a woman is the more she wants to learn. For this reason an educated woman makes the best housewife and the best mother.

Dr. Simarro, professor at the University of Madrid, says the question has not arisen in Spain. Women there have only one idea, to be docile and obedient to their husbands. Woman's prestige in Spain depends principally upon whether she is pretty and whether men consider her so.

As the raft drifted down the shore and rescuers were seen making their way toward it the Boardwalk thousands spread the alarm to hotels and cafés and practically the entire summer population turned out to watch. summer population turned out to watch The hoax was not solved by some the brave rescuers until they were within a few hundred yards of the burning raft. Two boats ran close to the raft, believing that it still contained shipwrecked sailors. The raft was still drifting down the coast midnight and alarming stories of burning inps are pouring in over public and mari-me wires from points miles down the SETTLING TELEPHONE WAR. Court Proceedings in Helena to Smooth Difficulties.

HELENA, Mon., Aug. 7. The district court at the request of a local cab company o-day issued an alternative writ directing the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone Company to resume operations, making it returnable to-morrow morning. Federal Judge Hunt granted a temporary restraining order against the labor unions to prevent a boycott of the business of the company. The striking operators were requested by the company to return to work with the ultimatum that their places otherwise would be filled by imported help.

The cab company sought the writ of mandamus on the ground that the telephone company exercises the power of eminer company exercises the power of eminer, domain and being the holder of valuable franchises from the public should, therefore, be compelled to resume service. President Fairgrieve of the Federation of Labor said he would obey Judge Hunt's decree and not call the company unfair, but that he and his friends would not patronize the concern.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY TO SAY. Mount Vernon Coroner Turns Rosenh Evidence Over to Mr. Young.

MOUNT VERNON, Aug. 7.-Coroner Wieser danger said to-day that he had taken all of the testimony relating to the pugilist Kid Everett's possible connection with the murder of Julius E. Rosenheimer, the Pelham needle merchant, and would submit it to District Attorney Young. The District Attorney, he says, is best qualified to judge whether or not it forms, sufficient grounds for an indictment.

The Rosenheimer family, particularly the widow, maintains that they are satisfied that Everett had no hand in the crime. The Coroner has learned that Mrs. Rosenheimer has collected $60,000 insurance on her husband's life and has deposited the money in banks in New York city.

oung Man Tired of Living Shoots Himself Elias Rottenberg, who has a furnishing store at 1144 Third avenue, gave his son Julius, 20 years old, $5 yesterday to get some collars. An hour later the young man walked into the basement of the Wilmington Apartment House, Broadway and Ninety-seventh street, and shot himself in the head. He was taken to the J.
